Built for Real Labs. Built to Last.

In a science lab, stability isn't optional—it's essential. Experiments demand precision. Students need confidence. And educators deserve furniture that performs day after day.

The Marco Science Table is engineered for durability, accuracy, and long-term performance. Solid hardwood construction, reinforced steel corner bracing, and precision leveling glides ensure a wobble-free surface that supports real laboratory work. Protective rubber boots shield table legs from scuffs, spills, and daily wear — because labs are meant to be used.

Paired with high-performance, chemical-resistant work surfaces, this table is designed to stand up to the realities of today's science classrooms — without compromising quality or value.

Heavy duty double bolted steel corner braces with self-locking nuts.
